

Tompkins County Youth Services Dept. Presents

Cornell F. Woodson is the Associate Director for Diversity and Inclusion in the School of Industrial and Labor Relations at Cornell University. He has worked for the Atlanta Public Schools teaching 9th-12th grade English with Teach for America, the University of Vermont in student leadership development, and NYU as a Program Administer before returning to the Ithaca area. Cornell earned his B.S. in Communication Management and Design from Ithaca College, and earned his Masters in Education with an emphasis on social justice from the University of Vermont.

Building More Inclusive Environments

Reflecting on and understanding our own identities and how they impact our interactions with others is crucial to building more inclusive environments.

Participants in this workshop will be challenged to think about how they came to understand their identities and that of others.

We will unpack how pervasive our socialization can be through a conversation about implicit bias and the role it plays in our everyday lives.

When: Wednesday October 5, 2016

Time: 9 am to Noon (light morning refreshments provided)

Where: Hotel Ithaca, 222 S. Cayuga St., Ithaca

Parking: Due to construction, no on-site parking available.

Park in Cayuga St Garage @ $1/hr or on a side street.

Registration is required! Contact Theresa, 274-5310 or talbert@tom-pkins-co.org, no later than Sept 26th

The Tompkins County Youth Services Department invests time, resources, and funding in communities to enable all youth to thrive in school, work, and life.