Dear Sheriff Osborne:

On behalf of everyone involved in our Public Safety Career Academy, I want to express our sincere gratitude for your support, partnership, and especially for the generosity of your time in helping make this experience possible for our students.

The success of an academy like this depends on far more than providing students with information about careers. Its real value comes from giving young people the opportunity to learn directly from the professionals who serve and protect their communities every day. Your willingness to share your experience, expertise, and time allowed our students to see public safety not simply as a career field, but as a commitment to service, leadership, teamwork, and community.

We are especially grateful to the Tompkins County Sheriff's Office for helping us facilitate meaningful, hands-on experiences for our students. We recognize that your time is valuable and that participation in an academy like ours comes in addition to the many responsibilities you already carry. Your generosity did not go unnoticed.

Perhaps most importantly, your involvement helps strengthen the connection between our region's future and the professionals who are serving it today. When students have the opportunity to meet and learn from people who are deeply committed to their communities, they begin to see a place for themselves in that future. They see careers they may not previously have considered, but they also see examples of what it means to contribute, to lead, and to serve others.

Building and sustaining strong communities requires us to invest in the next generation. By opening your departments, sharing your knowledge, and taking the time to engage with our students, you have helped make that investment. We hope the connections created through the Public Safety Career Academy will encourage some of these young people to become the firefighters, law enforcement officers, emergency responders, and community leaders who will serve our region in the years ahead.

Thank you again for your partnership, your generosity, and your continued commitment to our students and our community. We are truly grateful to have professionals and organizations like yours willing to help us prepare the next generation.

With #LionPride,
